Spot Improvements: Access Changes

Access Changes

Access changes are being considered for both alternatives. These access changes are intended to improve safety by eliminating high-risk turning movements, consolidating access, and removing access points near intersections. The types of access changes being considered include driveway closures, driveway relocations, and installation of medians that change access for driveways and public streets.

Despite these access changes, all affected properties will be accommodated with reasonable access.

See the roll plot exhibit for more details on these access changes
